As the Labour leadership campaign comes to an end...

WE BACK CORBYN. NOW BUILD THE FIGHTBACK

We'll know the result of the Labour leadership contest on Saturday. The outcome will shape the movement in Britain for months ahead.

The campaign for leader has been bitter with thousands of Labour Party members excluded from the party or refused the right to vote.

But despite the attacks from the Labour right, and the constant biased reporting from the media, tens of thousands of people have attended Corbyn's rallies around Britain.

People are flocking to see Corbyn because they support the politics of anti-austerity, anti-racism and opposition to war that he represents.

Even if Corbyn wins it looks like the Labour right will continue their attacks. That's why it's so impotant that Corbyn builds the movement outside parliament where he is strongest.

We believe the best way to celebrate a Corbyn victory will be to join the People's Assembly demo at the Tory Party conference in Birmingham on Sunday 2 October and to join him at the Stand up to Racism conference in London on Saturday 8 October.

We call on Labour and the trade unions to build solidarity for the junior doctors. We call on them to initiate a national demonstration to back the junior doctors and defend our NHS.
