

Jeremy Corbyn is right...

Tories are to blame NOT immigrants

Refugees & migrants are welcome here

JEREMY CORBYN is absolutely right to put the blame for low wages, lack of housing and pressure on public services on the Tories NOT immigrants.

The Tories have driven down public sector pay, attacked trade union rights, cut spending on housing and public services and then used racism to try to divert the blame onto migrants and refugees.

Instead of helping refugees, the Tories have sought to make their journeys more dangerous - blocking routes of travel with gunboats and now planning to build a wall in Calais to keep out people fleeing war and persecution.

It is vital to stand up to this racist scapegoating that can only undermine the united fightback we need to take on and defeat the Tories. Far too many on the right of the Labour Party are rushing to embrace the Tories agenda.

Despite the attempts of our rulers, millions have donated, marched and protested over the treatment of refugees. We want the movement against all forms of racism to continue and grow.

Refugees are welcome! Open the borders! No to racism and Islamophobia!

Join the Stand up to Racism conference on October 8, Central London

Name	Postcode	Union/College	Donation to SW	I'd like to hear more about the protest at Tory Party Conference (Birmingham) on 2 October and the Stand up to Racism (London) conference on 8 October (email/mobile)