SOCIALIST WORKER PUBLIC MEETING

From Donald Trump in the US to Theresa May here, the attempts to whip up racism and islamophobia are intensifying.

But there has also been mass resistance to the hate and division pumped out from the top of society.

Thousands have marched against Trump's Muslim ban. Refugees have refused to be locked out by border fences. The Black Lives Matter movement has taken on the heart of the racist police system.

This resistance has inspired those who want to fight for a better world, one without oppression.

It has also raised important questions. Is a world without racism possible? Do we need a revolution to get there?

Join our Socialist Worker public rally to discuss these questions and more.
